“ I had the pleasure of working with Ms. Brenda at DIT, and during that time we shared many wonderful conversations about everything. From our love of the Lord and the church, to hairstyles, makeup, and clothes. She carried herself with excellence. She truly set a standard, one that I deeply admired.

Even after she retired, we would often talk and catch up while she was walking at Spring Forest Park. Those moments meant more than she probably knew.

I will truly miss seeing and talking to her.

My thoughts and prayers are with her family during this difficult time. May they find comfort in the beautiful legacy she leaves behind.

“ I was very fortunate to work with Brenda, and she helped me understand a lot. When we left DIT, we continued to have lunch together at various times of the year. She was part of the DPI and DIT families and left a lasting impression on both families. She will be missed. Her faith was her badge, and she wore it wonderfully. Discussions about God and faith were always a blessing and a comfort. I pray for peace and comfort for the family.

“ I've had the pleasure to work with Brenda at NC DPI when she was a budget analyst. She was a very good coworker. Not only did she have the beauty, but she had the brains and a "tude" to match :-)--she wasn't the one to play with. I liked her style. If other analysts and coworkers in the agency she assisted with their budgets didn't have something together, she was not shy about letting them know. She was an educator, in my book, and I've learned a lot from her in the short time we worked together. Once in a while, I would see her at the grocery store. She was a sweet and kind person.

I am going to miss her. To the Wilkins Family, I am so very sorry for your loss.

I would like to give my deepest condolences to the Wilkins family. Brenda and I worked together at DPI. I found her to be a very kind, easy going and a giving person. She truly loved the Lord! I remember she loved making her made from scratch banana pudding. She shared it with us during the holidays and on special occasions. She will be missed but we will not forget her.
