“ My "twin" cousin Kat... every year we joked about who was older seeing as we were born same hospital, same day, one of our moms coming in while the other was going out. Simply checking the time on the birth certificates would've easily solved this question, but our way led to a lifetime game! I believe we turned 45 when I finally told her that she's the older cousin. The last time I spoke with her was our last birthday... goodbye my "twin" cousin...
