“ Quanisha were a beautiful lady, I meet her at the Roses store in Rocky Mount just holding a random conversation every time I would go. Then she told me she was pregnant and she was overjoyed. Went a while and didn't see here and one day she pops up here at the DSS. And when I get back to work on today from my Mom passing I hears of hers. So to the family you all have my deepest condolence, and take good care of Royal she would greatly appreciated it. Love Ms. Davis

“Qua, as I called her, was my favorite client and she knew it. I remember when she decided to cut her hair and she said I want something to fit my personality and I said what do you have in mind. She pulled up pics of Nia Long and Meagan Good. I said ok, are you sure, because although it will grow back, it'll take a while. She said, I'm sure and has been short-haired ever since but it absolutely suits her style and personality, free-spirited, bubbly, life of the party. Beautiful young lady in and out but you knew when NOT to mess with her. Royal was her WHOLE heart! If I knew on Thursday evening that would be the last time you sat in my styling chair I might would have kept you there a few minutes longer. 💔 Fly high baby girl! I'm gonna miss you 💕

“OMG... when I heard about Nisha's death I lost it completely!!! This young lady was so full of life and love. She had the biggest heart, brightest smile and so much love for family. I'm going to miss her so much. I just want to thank God for allowing her to be a part of us for as long as he did. She's always going to be my perfect little angel and I will remember her as that. Please pray for understanding, forgiveness and peace for our family. Rest in Peace Angel!

“Quanisha, we were each other's “favs”. You were one of my favorite people I've ever met with a heart full of gold👉👈. You were so beautiful inside and out and that's something that I've always adored about you. You truly knew how to make my day whether it was by complimenting me or making me laugh💕. I'm going to miss us reacting to each other's posts on Facebook and seeing you post almost everyday on your Instagram story lol. Get your rest love, your work here is done. We will always remember you down here💕 Until we meet again boo👉👈
